

BUG Creating New Persona From Home Page

Bug ID: Persona-002 Title: Creating new persona from home page is not possible.

Priority: High Severity: High

Reported By: Demirhan Yalcin

Date: 22/03/2026

Environment: Chrome 122, Windows 10, Desktop

Description

Trying to create persona by clicking "Create personas" button located in home page, under "Welcome, Name!" text brings user to creating personas page accordingly. However clicking "Create a customer" button located in the middle of screen throws an error saying "There was an error while saving this persona."

Steps to Reproduce

1. Navigate to home page.
2. Click "Create personas" button located under Welcome, Name! text.
3. From navigated page click "Create a customer button".

Expected Behavior

User should be able to create a persona as is possible to create from Building Blocks -> Personas -> New Persona

Actual Behavior

User is not able to create new persona due to error occurring in api call with the field organizationSlug. An error appears on screen saying 'There was an error while saving this persona' and the persona is not created.

Impact

- User Experience: New user might get frustrated by the fact that one of the most important screen of the application, home page is not working properly. And might effect our first impression in their eye.
- Functionality: A primary call to action on the home page is completely non-functional, blocking new users from completing a key onboarding flow.

Evidence

Create your first customer persona

Journeys are always connected to a customer. Create a new customer to get started.
